ABOUT THIS INSPECTION

The purpose of this inspection is to assure government, parents and the public of the quality of childcare and, if applicable, of nursery education. The inspection was carried out under Part XA Children Act 1989 as introduced by the Care Standards Act 2000 and, where nursery education is provided, under Schedule 26 of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998.

This report details the main strengths and any areas for improvement identified during the inspection. The judgements included in the report are made in relation to the outcomes for children set out in the Children Act 2004; the National Standards for under 8s day care and childminding; and, where nursery education is provided, the Curriculum guidance for the foundation stage.

The report includes information on any complaints about the childcare provision which Ofsted has received since the last inspection or registration or 1 April 2004 whichever is the later.

The key inspection judgements and what they mean

Outstanding: this aspect of the provision is of exceptionally high quality

Good: this aspect of the provision is strong

Satisfactory: this aspect of the provision is sound

Inadequate: this aspect of the provision is not good enough

For more information about early years inspections, please see the booklet Are you ready for your inspection? which is available from Ofsted's website: www.ofsted.gov.uk.

THE QUALITY AND STANDARDS OF THE CARE

On the basis of the evidence collected on this inspection:

The quality and standards of the care are inadequate - notice of action to improve. The registered person does not meet the National Standards for under 8s day care and childminding.

At the time of the inspection there were no children on roll. Ofsted judges that the provider remains suitable to provide care.

WHAT SORT OF SETTING IS IT?

This childminder has been registered since May 2003. She lives with her husband and two children aged 15 and 13 years. They live in a house located in a residential area in Addiscombe, close to shops, schools and transport services. The whole of the property is available for childminding purposes. Children do not have access to the garden, but the childminder ensures that children are taken out on a daily basis. The family have one pet budgie.

The childminder is registered to care for three children but has not cared for any for 10 months. The childminder offers an out of school service only for children over 5 years.

When a provider does not have children on roll at the time of the inspection, inspection judgements are based on evidence gathered from discussions with the provider and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation.

THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE PROVISION

Helping children to be healthy

The provision is inadequate.

The childminder demonstrates a satisfactory understanding of suitable procedures to:

promote children's health, by ensuring that positive steps are taken to prevent the spread of infection. However, the childminder has not updated her first aid training, therefore the childminder is not qualified in first aid and the provision is inadequate. (National Standard 7: Health)

ensure that food and drink for children is adequate, properly prepared, nutritious and complies with dietary and religious requirements. (National Standard 8: Food and drink)

Protecting children from harm or neglect and helping them stay safe

The provision is satisfactory.

The premises are safe, secure and include the necessary facilities for children. The childminder demonstrates an awareness of how to ensure the environment is made welcoming to children. (National Standard 4: Physical environment)

The furniture, equipment and toys are safe and appropriate for the needs of children. (National Standard 5: Equipment)

The childminder understands how to promote children's safety and take precautions to prevent accidents. (National Standard 6: Safety)

The childminder has a sound knowledge of child protection procedures approved by the Local Safeguarding Children Board, and is aware of their responsibility to protect the welfare of the child. (National Standard 13: Child protection)

Helping children achieve well and enjoy what they do

The provision is satisfactory.

The childminder has a satisfactory knowledge of how individual children develop and learn. (Standard 3: Care, learning and play)

Helping children make a positive contribution

The provision is satisfactory.

The childminder:

has an appropriate knowledge and awareness of the importance of treating each child with equal respect and concern. (National Standard 9: Equal opportunities)

is aware that some children may have learning difficulties or disabilities, and understands the importance of working in partnership with parents and with other professionals to promote the welfare and development of the child. (National Standard 10: Special needs)

shows a willingness and commitment to working with parents to manage children's behaviour in a consistent way which promotes the child's welfare and development. (National Standard 11: Behaviour)

has a satisfactory understanding of the need to develop a strong partnership with parents, taking into account their differing needs. (National Standard 12: Working in partnership with parents and carers)

Organisation

The organisation is inadequate.

The childminder:

is aware of the duty to ensure that other people living or working on the premises are suitable to be in contact with children. (National Standard 1: Suitable person) has not maintained a current first aid certificate. (National Standard 1.5: Qualifications) understands the importance of working within the constraints of the condition of registration relating to number of children; and of organising space and resources to best meet the needs of the children. (National Standard 2: Organisation) has a sound awareness of the records to be kept and the importance of these. (National Standard 14: Documentation)

Improvements since the last inspection

At the last inspection, the childminder agreed to devise and implement full accident and medicine procedures, develop her understanding of child protection issues, complete a first aid course and make sure low level glass panels are safe.

The childminder is now aware of how to record accident and medication details to promote children's health and safety. She has developed her understanding of safeguarding children issues to protect children's welfare. She completed a first aid course, however this has expired and needs to be updated. The childminder is now able to confirm that low level glass panels are safe to promote children's safety in the setting.

Complaints since the last inspection

Since the last inspection, there have been no complaints made to Ofsted that required the provider or Ofsted to take any action in order to meet the National Standards.

The provider is required to have procedures for dealing with concerns and complaints from parents and to keep a record of complaints and their outcome.

THE QUALITY AND STANDARDS OF THE CARE

On the basis of the evidence collected on this inspection:

The quality and standards of the care are inadequate - notice of action to improve. The registered person does not meet the National Standards for under 8s day care and childminding.

At the time of the inspection there were no children on roll. Ofsted judges that the provider remains suitable to provide care.

WHAT MUST BE DONE TO SECURE FUTURE IMPROVEMENT?

The quality and standards of the care

To improve the quality and standards of care, the registered person must take the following actions:

- complete a first aid course which includes training in first aid for infants and young children.

These actions are set out in a notice of action to improve and must be completed by the date specified in the notice.
