ABOUT THE INSPECTION

The purpose of this inspection is to assure government, parents and the public of the quality and standard of day care in accordance with the National Standards for Under Eights Day Care and Childminding; and that the nursery education for funded three and four year old children is of an acceptable quality. Inspection of nursery education also identifies strengths and weaknesses so that providers can improve the quality of educational provision and help children to achieve the early learning goals (elgs) by the end of the Foundation Stage. This inspection report must be made available to all parents.

If the setting has been inspected previously, an action plan will have been drawn up to tackle issues identified. This inspection, therefore, must also assess what progress has been made in the implementation of this plan.

Information about the setting

Rooks Nest Pre- school opened in 1997. It operates from the mobile classroom which is situated in Rooks Nest school grounds in the Outwood area of Wakefield. The group serves the local community.

There are currently 44 children from two to five years on roll. This includes 33 funded three-year olds and 13 funded four-year olds, children with special educational needs and children with English as an additional language are supported by the setting.

Children attend for a variety of sessions. The group open five days a week during school term time. Sessions are from 09:00 until 11:30 and 12:40 until 15:10 hours.

Three full time and two part time staff work with the children there is also a pre school assistant.

Over half the staff have early years qualifications to NVQ level 3

The setting receives support from a teacher from the Early Years Development and Childcare Partnership (EYDCP) and the Pre School Learning Alliance (PLA).

How good is the Day Care?

Rooks Nest Pre School provides good quality care for children. It is well organised and good systems are in place. Staff deployment and adult child ratios are good, staff training is promoted well. Staff are knowledgeable and have a clear understanding of their roles and responsibilities. The indoor accommodation is well set out and attractively presented with children's work adorning the walls, the outdoor area is used effectively to promote children's physical development and their knowledge and understanding is enhanced through outings and visitors to the setting.

Good hygiene procedures ensure children and staff practice good health care and good standards are maintained. High standards in safety are established staff are vigilant, children are well supervised both inside and outside, safety checks are used on a daily basis and risk assessments promote children's safety, however the fire door is bolted affecting operation of the push bar.

Children's snack times are a sociable occasion, staff sit with the children at their level to support and interact. Children receive a satisfactory balanced snack. Through actively seeking support and guidance from external agencies staff enhance their own knowledge and understanding and promote children's welfare meeting any special needs.

Children are enthusiastic and enjoy participating in a wide variety of self chosen and purposeful activities, the good range of resources are well presented, organised and stored to promote independent access further promoting children's overall development. Staff interaction is very good and highly supportive this enhances children's learning, yet whole group activities do not meet the needs of all children. Children's behaviour is very good and they show care and consideration for others. Good levels of communication, documentation and well established key worker systems ensure parents are well informed of all aspects of the setting and children's progress.

INSPECTION OF THE NURSERY EDUCATION PROVISION FOR FUNDED THREE AND FOUR YEAR OLDS.

How effective is the nursery education?

Rooks Nest Pre School provide a welcoming atmosphere where children are making very good progress in personal, social and emotional development and mathematical development and generally good progress in communication, language and literacy and knowledge and understanding of the world, creative development and physical development.

The quality of teaching is generally good. Staff are enthusiastic and work well as a team and have very good relationships with the children. They plan and provide a varied range of interesting activities linked clearly to the early learning goals, which support all children's development, although children have insufficient self-chosen access to design technology. They question children appropriately and encourage them to think. Very good methods are in place to monitor and evaluate children's progress and there is an effective system in place to provide good support for children with special educational needs. Staff however do not sufficiently evaluate whole group activities to challenge and extend more able children and meet the needs of all children. Staff nurture children and manage children well, and behaviour is very good.

Leadership and management is generally good. The leader and the deputy promote the work and development of the staff and ensure through good staff deployment that children's learning is supported. Good monitoring systems are in place for the effectiveness of the practitioner and the provision. They are actively involved and participate in linking with the children's feeder school and other practitioners.

Partnership with parents are very good, parents are encouraged to regularly share information and what they know about their child. They receive very good information with regards to the planning, and foundation stage. Good opportunities are available for parents to be involved in their child's learning and progress, which has a positive impact on their child's overall development.

What is being done well?

- The aesthetically pleasing environment is well appointed, the accommodation, resources and use of time is good, space which is available is utilized to its full potential with purposeful planned, continuous and freely accessible activities, these encourage children's interest concentration and investigative skills.
- A very good partnership has been established with parents which effectively supports the children's progress and parents receive good information about the educational provision, Parents are encouraged to share what they know about their child and many parent's show interest and enthusiasm in how the pre school operates and how they can be involved and promote their child's progress.

- Leadership and management enthusiastically promote all aspects of the provision and support the staff in their development, they actively seek further knowledge and guidance from early years practitioners.
- Children's personal, social and emotional skills are the strength of the group, the children are confident and secure in their environment, they build warm trusting relationships with adults and peers and independence and self esteem are well established and behaviour is good.
- The staff place strong emphasis on developing the children's mathematical skills. Good displays, resources and support are provided to engage and sustain children's interest, children effectively learn to count, recognise shape, size, numerals and other mathematical concepts. They show very good progress in learning about basic addition and subtraction and solving problems and readily use mathematical language in learning and play. Good levels of support, interesting resources, good opportunities for self chosen and purposeful activities promote this area well

What needs to be improved?

- Children's opportunities to use their creativity and imagination in design technology.
- The organisation of whole group activities to provide challenge for more able children and to ensure the needs of all children are met.

What has improved since the last inspection?

Regular outside play now incorporates equipment and resources to provide children with opportunities to climb.

The Special Educational Needs policy has been further developed it is comprehensive and clear.
