ABOUT THE INSPECTION

The purpose of this inspection is to assure government, parents and the public of the quality and standard of day care in accordance with the National Standards for Under Eights Day Care and Childminding; and that the nursery education for funded three and four year old children is of an acceptable quality. Inspection of nursery education also identifies strengths and weaknesses so that providers can improve the quality of educational provision and help children to achieve the early learning goals (elgs) by the end of the Foundation Stage. This inspection report must be made available to all parents.

If the setting has been inspected previously, an action plan will have been drawn up to tackle issues identified. This inspection, therefore, must also assess what progress has been made in the implementation of this plan.

Information about the setting

Presmere Day Nursery opened in 1991. It operates from two rooms within a converted cottage. The cottage is surrounded by farmland in the village of Pettistree. The nursery serves the local area.

There are currently 45 children from 3 months to 5 years on roll. This includes 9 funded 3 year olds and 2 funded 4 year olds. Children attend for a variety of sessions. The setting currently supports a number of children with special needs and who speak English as an additional language.

The group opens five days a week all year round. Sessions are from 08:30 hrs until 18:00 hrs.

Three full-time and three part time staff work with the children. Over half the staff have early years qualifications to NVQ level 3. The setting receives support from a teacher/mentor from the Early Years Development and Child Care partnership (EYDCP)

How good is the Day Care?

Presmere Day Nursery provides good care for children.

The nursery offers a welcoming environment for children. The proprietor is keen to ensure the nursery remains small and child focused, presenting a 'home from home' atmosphere. The playrooms are organised to meet the differing ages of the children. There is a comprehensive system of gathering and recording information. Policies and procedures are in place. However, some are not up to date and most are not directly available to parents although they may request copies.

Staff give high regard to health and hygiene issues, both in their own practice and also in encouraging children to adopt good hygiene procedures. They have a good awareness of keeping children safe at the nursery and when on outings. However, staff are not sufficiently aware of some aspects of health and safety requirements. A varied and nutritious menu of snacks and meals is provided, these are cooked on the premises and cater for children's individual dietary requirements. Parents provide milk and food as appropriate for the babies who attend.

Staff and children enjoy good relationships with each other. Children are provided with a range of toys and activities, which includes frequent opportunities for outdoor play and local outings. The care offered in the baby room is child led and follows individual children's routines. Children progress from the baby room according to their age and stage of development. There are good procedures in place to support children with special needs. Staff use praise and encouragement effectively to reinforce good behaviour and promote the children's confidence and self-esteem.

Partnership with parents and carers is good. Appropriate information is gathered and shared with parents who are encouraged to approach the staff and /or management at any time.

- The good procedures, which help staff to identify and support children who have special, needs and enable all children to be included in the nursery and the activities.
- The flexibility offered to parents with regards to the care provided for their children, most especially for babies, enables staff to follow individual children's routines.

What needs to be improved?

- the staff's knowledge and understanding of health and safety requirements, for example, to ensure that electrical equipment conforms to safety requirements and the recording of risk assessments
- policies relating to child protection, complaints and behaviour so that they are further developed in line with the National Standards and made available to parents.

INSPECTION OF THE NURSERY EDUCATION PROVISION FOR FUNDED THREE AND FOUR YEAR OLDS.

How effective is the nursery education?

The provision for nursery education at Presmere Day Nursery is of good quality. It enables children to make very good progress in their communication, language, literacy and their knowledge and understanding of the world and generally good progress in all other areas of learning.

The quality of teaching is generally good. Staff have an appropriate knowledge of the Foundation Stage. They provide interesting activities and varied opportunities for children to try new experiences but some spontaneous teaching opportunities are missed. Core activities such as sand, water and free art underpin the topic related activities. The new planning and assessment system in place will be used to identify children's strengths, highlight any gaps in learning and to inform planning. This planning structure provides a comprehensive and clear framework for staff to deliver a broad curriculum. Children behave very well. Staff have clear expectations of the children and consistently apply age appropriate strategies to encourage positive behaviour. An effective system for supporting children with special educational needs and for whom English is an additional language ensures equality of access to the provision and enables all children to participate in the opportunities available.

Leadership and management is generally good. Staff understand their roles and responsibilities and work well as a team. The group does not have a system of staff appraisals or self-evaluation. The training needs of staff are given appropriate consideration; they are encouraged to attend short courses, which meet their needs and those of the nursery.

The partnership with parents is generally good. Information is gathered and shared in a variety of ways. Plans are displayed and newsletters sent out about current topics. Parents will be, with the new assessment system, encouraged to be involved in the assessment of their children.

What is being done well?

- The use of books within the nursery is a key strength. Books are used for enjoyment, and for reference. Staff encourage children to handle books appropriately and foster a love of stories.
- Good relationships are developed with parents who are encouraged to be involved in their children's learning.
- Children are given good opportunities to develop an understanding of themselves and the world around them.

What needs to be improved?

- opportunities for children to develop independence, for example, pouring their own drinks, setting the tables, encouraging them to try to cut up their own food and make choices in their play
- the use of spontaneous opportunities to reinforce children's mathematical learning in everyday situations, for example simple calculation, one more/one less, combining groups of objects and relating them to adding and subtracting
- extending role-play, by providing a wider range of resources to support and underpin children's learning and the development of their imaginations.

What has improved since the last inspection?

Very good progress has been made at addressing the key issues raised at the last inspection. The planning and assessment systems have been changed several times. A new system has now been introduced which is effective.

Staff observations inform the assessment of children. Staff know what children can do, they identify the next steps of learning for children and use this information to inform the planning cycle.

Planning is now comprehensive. It is balanced across the six areas of learning, shows how activities can be extended for the more able children or made accessible to less able children.

The improvements made enable staff to confidently assess and plan for children's individual needs.

SUMMARY OF JUDGEMENTS

PERSONAL, SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Judgement: Generally Good

Children are motivated to learn and to try new experiences. They concentrate and persevere, with adult support where appropriate. They are happy and secure; separating from carers with ease. Children form good relationships with staff and peers, co-operating and taking turns. Children are very well behaved responding to the positive messages given to them. Children are able to self-care but do not routinely make choices in activities or in selecting resources.

COMMUNICATION, LANGUAGE AND LITERACY

Judgement: Very Good

Children use language to negotiate with peers and adults. They link sounds to letters and match sounds to the alphabet. The good use of books is a strength of the group. They are valued and handled appropriately. Children join in and listen intently to stories predicting the story lines and enjoy telling stories to their friends. Children are skilled at mark making throughout many of the activities offered and attempt to label their own work, most letters are formed correctly.

MATHEMATICAL DEVELOPMENT

Judgement: Generally Good

Children count confidently and use numbers correctly during play. They are beginning to recognise and write numerals and use mathematical language in context. Staff introduce basic mathematical learning such as size and shape throughout practical activities such as construction and modelling. Staff, do not always use opportunities to introduce concepts such as combining groups of numbers, addition and subtraction. Number lines are available but not used to reinforce learning.

KNOWLEDGE AND UNDERSTANDING OF THE WORLD

Judgement: Very Good

Children build and construct using a range of objects and tools. Good opportunities are provided to use information technology, which underpins learning in other areas. They develop a sense of self and enjoy talking about past and present events in their own lives and those around them. They learn about the environment, the natural world, the local community and the wider world through an interesting range of activities such as planting potatoes, seeds etc and observing them as they grow.

PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT

Children develop an awareness of space and others around them. They enjoy using a range of resources, tools and equipment, which they do safely and with developing control. Daily opportunities are provided for children to experience, climbing, running and balancing. They develop an awareness of why it is important to stay healthy through daily routines. Health awareness is included in the planning, but little emphasis is given to help children to recognise changes to their bodies after activity.

CREATIVE DEVELOPMENT

Children are given opportunities to explore texture, colour and form in 2 and 3 dimensions, through a range of planned activities where they can develop their imaginations and creativity. They enjoy role-play, but this tends to be 'home corner' based with accessories added to change the emphasis; doctors sets added to make a hospital. Children enjoy singing simple songs and rhymes; they join in with ring games and enjoy dancing. Music is planned for fun and to support other areas of learning.

Children's spiritual, moral, social, and cultural development is fostered appropriately.

OUTCOME OF THE INSPECTION

The provision is acceptable and is of good quality overall. Children are making generally good progress towards the early learning goals. The next inspection will take place in three to four years time.

WHAT THE SETTING NEEDS TO DO NEXT: THE KEY ISSUES

- foster children's independence and encourage them to make choices in their play
- use spontaneous opportunities to extend and reinforce children's mathematical development
- develop the role-play scenarios so that they clearly support and underpin children's learning and the development of their imaginations.

The provider must draw up an action plan within 40 working days of receipt of this report showing how the key issues detailed above will be addressed. The action plan must be made available to all parents and to the Local Authority if required. An evaluation of the action taken will form part of the next inspection of funded nursery education.
