ABOUT THE INSPECTION

The purpose of this inspection is to assure government, parents and the public of the quality and standard of day care in accordance with the National Standards for Under Eights Day Care and Childminding; and that the nursery education for funded three and four year old children is of an acceptable quality. Inspection of nursery education also identifies strengths and weaknesses so that providers can improve the quality of educational provision and help children to achieve the early learning goals (elgs) by the end of the Foundation Stage. This inspection report must be made available to all parents.

If the setting has been inspected previously, an action plan will have been drawn up to tackle issues identified. This inspection, therefore, must also assess what progress has been made in the implementation of this plan.

Information about the setting

The Princess Christian Day Nursery in Ferndene, Bradley Stoke, South Gloucestershire is a purpose built two-storey day nursery. It operates all year round, excluding bank holidays, Monday to Friday, from 07:30 to 18:00 hours.

There are currently 158 children on roll, which includes 37 funded three-year-olds and 20 funded four-year-olds. The ground floor, which has six play rooms, is allocated to babies and children aged under two years. Separate nappy changing areas are located nearby. Children aged between two and five years are based on the first floor, which has three main play rooms. Toilet facilities are adjacent to these areas. There is a secure garden for outside play. This is divided into separate enclosed areas depending on age.

Currently there are 31 members of staff who work directly with the children. Thirteen hold early years qualifications, two have NVQ Level 2 certificates, and six are undertaking NVQ Level 3 training.

The nursery receives support from the Early Years Development and Child Care Partnership (EYDCP).

How good is the Day Care?

The Princess Christian Nursery at Ferndene, Bradley Stoke, provides good quality care for children.

The nursery is well organised and managed. Staff are enthusiastic, relate and work well together as a team, and are committed to providing good quality care and education. They have a very positive approach to training and staff development. Sound recruitment procedures, induction for staff, regular meetings and an appraisal system is in operation. Most of the required documentation is in place. One procedure, together with the operational plan, has still to be addressed.

The nursery provides a warm, welcoming and relaxed environment where children are happy, interested and involved. They are well cared for. Staff develop good relationships with them and are sensitive and responsive to their needs. They are consistent in approach and give positive praise and encouragement. Independence, self esteem and confidence are promoted well. Behaviour is good.

Staff have a sound understanding of children's developmental learning requirements. Activities are well planned, and individual needs taken into account. Children's development is closely monitored and an effective key worker system is in place.

A good varied range of toys and equipment is provided, which offers challenge, interest and stimulation. The outside play areas however, lack creative planning and presentation.

Staff give high priority to ensuring children are safe and secure, and follow good health and hygiene practice. Food is freshly prepared and children are given healthy meals and snacks. Individual dietary needs are respected.

Staff work closely with parents and carers, to ensure that children settle happily into the nursery. They relate well, are welcoming, and care for children according to parent's wishes. Information is shared. Parents are kept well informed about the progress of their children, and expressed confidence in the care and learning their children receive.

INSPECTION OF THE NURSERY EDUCATION PROVISION FOR FUNDED THREE AND FOUR YEAR OLDS.

How effective is the nursery education?

The Princess Christian Day Nursery offers high quality nursery education. It provides a caring, supportive and welcoming environment in which children are making very good progress in all areas towards the early learning goals.

Teaching is very good. Staff have a clear understanding of how children learn and develop and a sound knowledge of the foundation stage. Activities are well planned and individual needs taken into account. Staff apply effective teaching methods, encourage participation and independence, and organise room space creatively to provide a stimulating learning environment. Staff interact well with children, are responsive and listen and question appropriately. They offer children realistic challenges and a wide range of activities to foster their interest and imagination and to promote confidence and self esteem. There are however, insufficient programmable toys on offer. Children's progress is closely monitored and assessments, linked to the stepping stones, are completed for each child and assist with future planning. Evidence of children's own work however is not routinely kept to further demonstrate ongoing progress. The new planning and assessment system recently introduced lacks some clarity.

Leadership and management are very good. The nursery is well organised and has clear aims. Staff are enthusiastic, very aware of their roles and responsibilities and work well together as a team. They meet regularly to plan and assess their practice and provision. They show commitment to continued improvement through an active in-service training schedule.

Partnership with parents and carers is very good. Parents are provided with good information about the nursery and its provision in a variety of formats. They are kept well informed about their child's achievements and receive regular updates, as well as occasional written progress reports. They are warmly welcomed, valued and encouraged to be fully involved in their child's learning.

What is being done well?

- Children are making very good progress in all areas of the early learning goals.
- Staff have a clear understanding of how children learn and develop, and a sound knowledge of the foundation stage.
- Activities are well planned and individual needs taken into account. Staff provide a stimulating learning environment and offer challenges that sustain interest, foster independence and promote confidence and self esteem.
- Staff interact well with the children. They are responsive to their needs and interested in what they say and do, asking appropriate questions to extend their thinking and learning.

- There is effective leadership and an enthusiastic committed staff team, all of whom work well together. Staff access training opportunities to support children's learning and improve their practice and provision.
- The staff have very good relationships with parents and carers, who are well informed about the setting, the provision on offer and children's achievements and progress.

What needs to be improved?

- the limited number of programmable toys to support children's learning;
- clarity of planning and the system of assessment, to further support and provide ongoing evidence of children's progress and achievements.

What has improved since the last inspection?

The last Ofsted inspection was on the 1 March 2000. Good progress has been made in the four key issues that were addressed:

1. Planning has been developed to clearly indicate what children are expected to learn from each activity.
2. Children are provided with good opportunities to solve problems through practical activities.
3. Staff support children in the use of letter shape recognition and provide clear examples of correctly formed letters.
4. Staff provide a range of interesting activities, projects and resources to increase children's knowledge and understanding of their surrounding environment.

SUMMARY OF JUDGEMENTS

PERSONAL, SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Judgement: Very Good

Children are happy, interested, involved and have good self esteem. They confidently choose activities and show good levels of independence. They ably speak out in small and large groups and listen carefully to staff and each other. Children are eager to try out new activities, and are able to concentrate for long periods. They form good relationships, and are co-operative, well behaved and show concern and respect for others. They are developing an awareness of the wider community.

COMMUNICATION, LANGUAGE AND LITERACY

Judgement: Very Good

Children have good communication skills. They have a wide vocabulary and are confident speakers who engage easily in conversation with adults and other children. They talk through their actions, describe real and imaginary experiences and express feelings. Children enjoy singing rhymes and listening to stories. They understand that print carries meaning. Most children are able to recognise and write their own name as well as linking sounds to letters. Books are enjoyed and used confidently.

MATHEMATICAL DEVELOPMENT

Judgement: Very Good

Mathematical development is promoted well through planned and every day activities. Children count confidently, accurately, many up to ten and beyond, at group times and spontaneously in their play. They are starting to recognise numerals. Children are developing a good understanding of size, shape, position, and quantity and use correct descriptive language. They are able to copy simple patterns and sequences. Problem solving skills are promoted; children are encouraged to reason and question.

KNOWLEDGE AND UNDERSTANDING OF THE WORLD

Judgement: Very Good

Children are enthusiastic, and keen to investigate and explore new materials and ideas. They are developing a good knowledge and understanding both of their natural and surrounding environment, of the wider world, and of other cultures, through an interesting range of well planned topics and activities. Children talk confidently about events in their lives and have a good awareness of past and present. They are familiar with technology and its use, but too few programmable toys are available.

PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT

------------	-----------

Children move confidently around, carefully negotiating obstacles, with good co-ordination, imagination and control. They show a keen awareness of space and of others. Through well planned topic work and activities, children are learning about themselves physically and how their bodies work and perform. They show a good awareness of health and hygiene, and understand the importance of keeping healthy. They confidently use a wide variety of equipment and tools and have good manipulative skills.

CREATIVE DEVELOPMENT

------------	-----------

Children have good opportunities to use a broad range of media and materials. They explore colour, shape, texture and form, and two and three dimensional art work, in free play and in adult supported activities. Children use their imagination well and express their thoughts and feelings through painting, role play, storytelling and movement sessions. They have a good sense of rhythm and tempo, and enjoy singing and playing musical instruments. Children respond using all their senses.

Children's spiritual, moral, social, and cultural development is fostered appropriately.

OUTCOME OF THE INSPECTION

The provision is acceptable and is of high quality. Children are making very good progress towards the early learning goals. The next inspection will take place in three to four years time.

WHAT THE SETTING NEEDS TO DO NEXT

There are no significant weaknesses to report, but considerations should be given to improving the following:

- There are no significant weaknesses to report, but consideration should be given to the following:
- Increase resources to include more programmable toys that support children in furthering their understanding and knowledge of communication and technology;
- Continue to review and develop planning and the children's assessment system, to further support and provide ongoing evidence of children's progress and achievements.

The provider must draw up an action plan within 40 working days of receipt of this report showing how the key issues detailed above will be addressed. The action plan must be made available to all parents and to the Local Authority if required. An evaluation of the action taken will form part of the next inspection of funded nursery education.
