The quality and standards of the early years provision

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder explains how she assesses children on entry to plan for their future learning so they make suitable progress.
- The childminder has a good understanding of how to safeguard children and is able to demonstrate how she would do this by following procedures approved by the local safeguarding children board.
- The childminder demonstrates that she values the information that she receives from parents and will work in partnership with them in order to achieve the best outcomes for their children.
- The childminder is confident in describing how she monitors the progress children make over time. This enables her to provide appropriate intervention and helps to address any areas of weakness in children's development.
- The childminder's home is safe and secure. All doors, including the outdoor gate, are locked when children are present. Daily risk assessments are carried out to ensure children are protected at all times.

Information about this inspection

Inspections of registered early years provision are:

- scheduled at least once in every inspection cycle – the current cycle ends on 31 July 2016
- scheduled more frequently where Ofsted identifies a need to do so, for example where provision was previously judged inadequate
- brought forward in the inspection cycle where Ofsted has received information that suggests the provision may not be meeting the legal requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage or where assessment of the provision identifies a need for early inspection
- prioritised where we have received information that the provision is not meeting the requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage and which suggests children may not be safe
- scheduled at the completion of an investigation into failure to comply with the requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

The provision is also registered on the voluntary and compulsory parts of the Childcare Register. This report includes a judgment about compliance with the requirements of that register.

Inspection activities

- The inspector examined documentation, including policies, procedures and children's records.
- The inspector undertook a tour of the premises and the area used for childminding, including the outdoor area.
- The inspector checked evidence of suitability and qualifications of the childminder.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder her development plan and self-evaluation.
- The inspector looked at and discussed the range of toys, equipment and resources available.

Type of provision

For the purposes of this inspection the following definitions apply:

Full-time provision is that which operates for more than three hours. These are usually known as nurseries, nursery schools and pre-schools and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage. They are registered on the Early Years Register and pay the higher fee for registration.

Sessional provision operates for more than two hours but does not exceed three hours in any one day. These are usually known as pre-schools, kindergartens or nursery schools and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage. They are registered on the Early Years Register and pay the lower fee for registration.

Childminders care for one or more children where individual children attend for a period of more than two hours in any one day. They operate from domestic premises, which are usually the childminder's own home. They are registered on the Early Years Register and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Out of school provision may be sessional or full-time provision and is delivered before or after school and/or in the summer holidays. They are registered on the Early Years Register and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage. Where children receive their Early Years Foundation Stage in school these providers do not have to deliver the learning and development requirements in full but should complement the experiences children receive in school.
