The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Not met

The setting meets legal requirements for early years settings

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a sound understanding of how to meet the learning and development requirements. She understands how to support children to enjoy activities that challenge and promote learning in all areas. She understands the benefits of working in partnership with parents and other agencies to meet children's specific needs.
- The childminder keeps the documentation required for the safe management of the provision and to promote children's welfare.
- The childminder has a sound understanding of her role and responsibilities to safeguard the children's welfare. She knows how to provide a welcoming environment. She keeps the premises safe and understands the procedures to follow should she have a safeguarding concern.
- The childminder demonstrates a commitment towards continually improving her provision and has met the action set at her last inspection. The childminder's first-aid certificate and public liability insurance are up to date.
- The childminder meets the requirements of the Childcare Register.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector held discussions with the childminder to assess her knowledge of the safeguarding and welfare, and learning and development requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage.
- The inspector viewed the areas of the home that children have access to when they are present. She viewed the policies and resources available for childminding.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she evaluates her practice to drive improvement.

The childminder registered in 2012. She lives with her husband in the Camberwell area of the London Borough of Southwark. The premises are within walking distance of local schools, shops, parks and local transport links. Children have access to the ground floor of the property, which includes a play room and garden for outdoor play. The childminder is registered on the Early Years Register and the compulsory and voluntary parts of the Childcare Register. There were no children of early years age on roll at the time of the inspection.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
