The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Met
The setting meets legal requirements for early years settings

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has knowledge and understanding of the Early Years Foundation Stage and how to support children's learning and development. She understands how to support children to be prepared for school.
- The childminder understands how to support children's emotional well-being, and how to develop secure relationships with them and demonstrates an effective settling-in process.
- The childminder demonstrates an understanding of how to provide a range of resources and learning opportunities to support children's self-motivation and engagement in learning.
- The childminder demonstrates an understanding of the importance of self-reflection and continuous improvement to ensure quality of provision for all children.
- The childminder understands how effective partnerships with parents and other professionals supports children, including children with special educational needs and/or disabilities, to progress from their starting points.
- The childminder understands how to implement effective behaviour management strategies to support children's emotional well-being.
- The childminder demonstrates an understanding of how to keep children safe in line with an effective safeguarding policy.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed the requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage with the childminder.
- The inspector looked at documentation for monitoring and tracking children's progress, and a range of other documentation, including policies, procedures and evidence of qualifications.
- The inspector viewed the childminder's home.
