Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a good understanding of how to engage children so they enjoy learning. She demonstrates knowledge of how to monitor their achievements, track their progress and plan for their continued learning.
- The childminder has a very good understanding of how to safeguard children's welfare. She updates her safeguarding and first-aid training regularly and knows how to support children's well-being effectively.
- The childminder has a very positive attitude towards providing a service that is inclusive to all children. She has a variety of play resources and activity plans that embrace all cultures and abilities, to promote a culture of respect and understanding.
- The childminder is well-organised and values partnership working with parents and others. She has procedures for sharing information between all those involved with the children's care and learning to ensure consistency.
- The childminder is passionate about promoting healthy lifestyles by encouraging children to be active and develop good health through exercise and food.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed how the childminder intends to meet the learning and development needs of the children in her care.
- The inspector observed how the childminder maintains a safe environment for children.
- The inspector discussed self-evaluation and continuous improvement with the childminder.
