Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder demonstrates a good understanding of the importance of developing close relationships with children, which supports children's sense of belonging and promotes their emotional well-being.
- The childminder understands her role in supporting children's development through observing and assessing them, in order to plan for their next stages of learning.
- The childminder understands her role and responsibility in protecting and safeguarding children's welfare.
- The childminder understands how to keep children safe. She knows that she must identify and reduce hazards to children, for example, by regularly checking that toys and equipment are in good condition.
- The childminder understands the importance of working in partnership with parents and other professionals, in order to promote continuity in children's care and learning.
- Through discussion, the childminder demonstrated how she would organise suitable play opportunities to meet the individual needs of children and to ensure the environment supported their learning and development needs.
- The childminder has a positive attitude towards reflecting on, and developing, her practice. She understands the importance of making improvements that enhance children's experiences and provide them with the skills they need for their future learning.
- The childminder intends to teach children about healthy lifestyles by providing them with daily outdoor activities, exercise and nutritious snacks.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
