Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a sound understanding of the learning and development requirements. She demonstrates through discussion how to observe and assess children's learning in order to plan activities that they enjoy and which support them to make progress.
- Through discussion, the childminder shows that she has a good understanding of her role and responsibility to safeguard children. She has attended training and has clear processes in place should she be concerned about a child's welfare.
- The childminder has a good awareness of how to promote children's safety. She minimises risks in the environment and undertakes daily safety checks. This supports her with providing a safe environment in which children can play.
- Through discussion, the childminder demonstrates how she will promote children's health and well-being. Particularly regarding how to help children learn about leading a healthy lifestyle.
- Through discussion, the childminder shows she has a good awareness of how to effectively manage children's behaviour to support their emotional development.
- The childminder has a suitable knowledge of how to evaluate the quality of her practice. Since her last inspection, she has shown a commitment to driving improvement by working on the recommendations that were raised.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working in partnership with parents. She encourages parents to share learning that has happened at home and keeps them informed of children's achievements and the progress they are making at her setting.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
