Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a good understanding of how children learn and how to help them progress. She understands how to monitor children's development to ensure they are ready for the next stages of learning, including starting school.
- The childminder has a good knowledge of safeguarding children to help protect any children she may care for from harm.
- The childminder recognises the importance of promoting outdoor learning and eating nutritious food to promote children's physical well-being.
- The childminder has a good settling-in procedure to help children form strong relationships with her and to promote their emotional well-being.
- The childminder has a good self-evaluation process. She asks for parents' and children's feedback. She also attends regular training to improve the experiences of any children who may attend.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector observed all areas of the house used by children.
- The inspector and childminder discussed the childminder's practice, including how she helps children to learn and develop, and her safeguarding procedures.
- The inspector reviewed a sample of documents.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
