Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder provides a welcoming environment for children. She understands that children like to explore and promotes their decision-making skills. This helps to build children's self-confidence and makes them feel secure and happy.
- The childminder has an understanding of the requirements for the Early Years Foundation Stage. She knows how to support children who are learning to speak English as an additional language and children with special educational needs, particularly by involving parents.
- The childminder understands the requirement to share information with parents to support their children's learning. She knows how to complete observations and assessments to help identify children's needs and interests, and plan their next steps in learning.
- The childminder understands the importance of promoting a healthy lifestyle. She knows how to encourage children to become independent in managing their personal routines and making healthy choices.
- The childminder evaluates her provision and reflects on her practice. She values the views of parents and children to help identify areas for improvement.
- The childminder promote children's safety and is familiar with safeguarding procedures. She knows the processes for reporting any welfare concerns to keep children safe.
- The childminder promotes diversity and tolerance as part of her daily practice and knows how to manage children's behaviour.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
