

Childminder Report

Inspection date	22 September 2015
Previous inspection date	10 November 2010

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to promote children's development. She has a range of toys and resources to enhance children's play and learning.
- The childminder has assessments, monitoring and planning records in place to help her track and evaluate children's development. She has settling-in procedures to help her to build secure relationships with children and to help children to feel settled when they start.
- The childminder understands the signs and symptoms that would cause her concern about a child's well-being. She knows how to respond to concerns and follow guidance. She has procedures and risk assessments to ensure that the home is safe and secure.
- The childminder is aware of her role to support children's well-being. She understands how to maintain children's good health by providing nutritious snacks and meals. She understands how to promote and encourage children's positive behaviour to help children to feel secure.
- The childminder understands the importance of working in good partnership with parents and others involved in children's care. The childminder understands the need to ensure her training is up to date, and strives to improve and reflect on her practice.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed requirements with the childminder, to check her knowledge.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children.
- The inspector sampled documentation, policies and procedures.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she self-evaluates and develops her plans for improvement.

The childminder registered in 2009. She lives in the Brighton Hill area of Basingstoke. The childminder has an appropriate early years qualification. She offers care all year. There were no children in the early year's age group on roll when this inspection took place.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
