Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a clear understanding of the requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage. This enables her to support children's learning and welfare.
- The childminder has a good knowledge of how to promote the learning and development of all children. She understands how to observe and assess children's progress and use this information to plan for their next steps in learning.
- The childminder has a good understanding of child protection procedures. She has attended safeguarding training to keep her knowledge updated and she fully understands her responsibility to protect children in her care.
- The childminder understands the need to promote healthy lifestyles and ensuring children are physically active. In addition she is aware of providing nutritious meals and snacks for children.
- The childminder understands how to help children behave well and learn how to be kind and caring and have respect.
- The childminder is aware of the need to reflect on her practice. She undertakes regular training to keep updated. She knows how she would make arrangements to keep parents informed about their child's progress.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector talked with the childminder about how she intends to deliver the requirements.
- The inspector discussed the childminder's policies and the documents the childminder plans to use when caring for children.
