Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands the learning and development requirements. She knows how to provide appropriate challenge to children to enable them to make progress in all areas of learning.
- The childminder understands the importance of promoting healthy lifestyles with children. For example, by providing healthy meals and daily outdoor exercise.
- The childminder understands how to safeguard children and promote their safety and welfare. She understands the signs that would cause her concern and knows how to report any concerns that may arise.
- The childminder understands how to encourage children's positive behaviour and positive attitudes to others, whatever their backgrounds, ages and abilities.
- The childminder is committed to continual professional development and understands the need to regularly attend training to develop her skills.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector held discussions with the childminder about her knowledge of the Early Years Foundation Stage requirements.
- The inspector viewed all areas of the home used for childminding.
- The inspector sampled documents that the childminder has available for childminding.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
