

Childminder Report

Inspection date	8 February 2016
Previous inspection date	6 April 2011

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a good understanding of how to keep children safe and is familiar with the safeguarding procedures to follow should she have any welfare concerns. She recognises the need to prioritise children's physical and emotional well-being.
- The childminder understands how to promote children's good health through providing them with nutritious food and daily exercise.
- The childminder completes training to support and continually improve her practice.
- The childminder knows how to assess children's learning and plan activities to meet their developmental needs, so they progress across all areas of learning. She has a good understanding of preparing children for the next stage of their learning.
- The childminder is aware of working in partnership with parents and other professionals to promote the best learning and care for children.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector looked at documentation, including a selection of policies and procedures, and children's records.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder.
- The Inspector checked evidence of the childminder's suitability.
- The inspector took into account the written feedback from parents.
