Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands her responsibility to keep children safe. She has kept up-to-date with current changes to legislation and knows what to do to report any concerns about children.
- The childminder knows how to promote children's health and physical well-being. She understands the importance of working with parents to support continuity in their care and learning.
- The childminder understands how to plan a range of experiences to meet children's needs, including activities to help children gain the necessary skills for school.
- The childminder has systems in place to recognise potential hazards and take action to minimise risks.
- The childminder knows how to support children who are learning to speak English as an additional language and children with special educational needs.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed how the childminder intends to work with parents and other professionals.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder to gain an understanding of her knowledge of the Early Years Foundation stage.
- The inspector spoke to the childminder about how she will develop her role through self-evaluation and training.
- The inspector had a tour of the premises and checked all areas available for childminding.
- The inspector discussed the childminder's arrangements for keeping children safe.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
