Previous inspection date	20 September 2011

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a secure understanding of the safeguarding and welfare requirements. She knows her responsibility to promote children's safety and well-being and the procedures to follow should she need to make a child protection referral.
- The childminder knows how to assess and plan for children's learning to help them to progress. She recognises the importance of sharing this information with parents and other settings to promote continuity.
- The childminder offers a welcoming and stimulating learning environment. She has a range of resources available to interest children and promote their learning.
- The childminder understands of how to support children to value themselves as individuals and how to help them to understand and respect others.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

What the setting needs to do to improve further

To further improve the quality of the early years provision the provider should:

- develop systems of self-evaluation to further identify the setting's strengths and priorities for development that will improve the quality of provision for all children
