Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a secure understanding and knowledge of how to protect children's well-being. She can identify the signs and symptoms that may cause concern and knows the procedures to follow to safeguard children.
- The childminder has an understanding of how to observe, assess and plan to support children's progress in all areas of learning.
- The childminder has a good understanding of how to promote children's emotional development. She recognises the importance of working in partnership with parents to promote consistency in children's care and learning.
- The childminder understands that children need regular exercise and a healthy diet to help promote their physical well-being.
- The childminder recognises the importance of promoting children's independence and confidence to help them develop the skills they will need for their future learning.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector held discussions with the childminder about her knowledge of the Early Years Foundation Stage requirements.
- The inspector sampled documents the childminder has available for childminding.
- The inspector viewed all areas of the home used for childminding.

The childminder registered in 1992. She lives in Eltham in the Royal London borough of Greenwich. She work Monday to Thursday, 8am until 6pm, all years round. At the time of the inspection there were no children on roll.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
