Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to create a welcoming environment. She provides a wealth of resources and activities which are appropriate for children of different ages and stages of development. She understands the importance of helping children to settle and feel secure and meet their needs.
- The childminder demonstrated how she shares information frequently with parents so that children benefit from consistent care.
- The childminder has a clear understanding of all the requirements of her registration. She maintains necessary documentation and understands the need to keep improving her provision.
- The childminder understands how to manage children's different behaviours and how to teach them to behave in safe ways. She understands how to maintain their good health in order to meet their care needs and promote their well-being.
- The childminder has a secure understanding of child protection procedures. She has attended a relevant child protection training course and keeps up to date with current guidelines about how to safeguard children.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed the premises and play resources with the childminder.
- The inspector discussed the provider's self-evaluation and points for improvement.
- The inspector sampled documentation, including safeguarding information and training certificates.
- The inspector and childminder discussed how children's care needs would be met and how she intends to complement the learning that takes place at school.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
