Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a suitable understanding of the learning and development requirements. She is aware of how to track children's progress and understands her role in supporting children's overall development.
- The childminder has an up to date and appropriate awareness of how to safeguard children and is confident in how she would refer any concerns about children's welfare.
- The childminder demonstrates an awareness of how to promote children's positive behaviour. For example, she is aware of how children thrive on positive rewards and how to build children's self-esteem.
- The childminder's home is clean and she understands how to support children health and a healthy lifestyle, such as through suitable hygiene routines and exercise.
- The childminder is aware of the benefits of working in partnership with parents to provide continuity in their care and education. She is also aware of how to evaluate her practice to drive improvements.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
