Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to promote children's learning and development. She knows how to observe and assess children's progress and plan for the next steps in their learning.
- The childminder knows how to safeguard children. She has completed relevant training and knows the procedures to follow if she has a concern about a child.
- The childminder understands how to manage children's behaviour and teach them to respect each other.
- The childminder has kept up-to-date with training. She understands how to evaluate her practice to promote continuous improvement.
- The childminder understands how to promote children's health and well-being, including providing children with regular experiences outdoors, daily exercise, and a healthy diet.
- The childminder understands the importance of developing partnerships with parents to help her meet the individual needs of children.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed all areas of the home that are used for childminding purposes.
- The inspector talked to the childminder about her understanding of the requirements for safeguarding and welfare, and learning and development.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
