The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to provide suitable resources and activities to support children to move on to the next stage in their learning. She knows how to use observations and assessments to identify and provide for children's individual needs.
- The childminder has a secure understanding of how to safeguard children and the procedures to follow in the event of a concern about a child's welfare.
- The childminder understands how to promote children's health and well-being. She recognises the importance of providing opportunities for physical play and a secure and welcoming environment for children. The childminder knows how to help children develop strong relationships to support their emotional well-being.
- The childminder understands the importance of working in partnership with parents and other settings involved with children, in order to provide a shared approach to children's learning and development.
- The childminder understands the importance of evaluating her provision to make continuous improvements. She has addressed the recommendations and action made at the last inspection.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
