Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder demonstrates a good understanding of how to use risk assessments to help her provide a safe and secure learning environment for children.
- The childminder understands the importance of helping children to respect one another and to teach them how to behave well. She recognises how to provide activities that help children make progress and gain the skills needed for school.
- The childminder is aware of the need to evaluate her practice to promote continuous improvement.
- The childminder understands the benefits of working with parents to provide children with continuity in their learning and promote children's emotional well-being.
- The childminder understands how to promote children's physical well-being and provide them with daily opportunities for outdoor play and exercise.
- The childminder understands safeguarding procedures to protect children's welfare. She is aware of what to look out for and her responsibility to report any child protection concerns to the relevant agency.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector checked the suitability of the rooms available for childminding.
- The inspector looked at a selection of the records, and policies and procedures that the childminder uses when caring for children.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder and looked at documentation of how she delivers the educational programmes and evaluates her practice.
- The inspector checked evidence of the suitability of the childminder and adults in her household.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
