Summary of key findings for parents

The provision does not meet requirements

- The childminder has not maintained a current paediatric first-aid certificate. This is also a breach of the requirements of the Childcare Register. However, the childminder has completed some training to help her meet some specific health needs.
- The childminder knows the procedures to follow to protect children from harm. She reviews her safeguarding policies and procedures and ensures they remain up-to-date.
- The childminder has suitable procedures for working in partnership with parents and others. She knows the importance of promoting continuity in children's care and learning, and helping them feel to confident, secure and ready to learn.
- The childminder knows to provide a range of activities and resources to promote children's learning and development. She understands how children learn through play, and how to support them to achieve well and develop the skills needed for school.
- The childminder uses suitable self-evaluation processes to monitor her effectiveness and children's learning, to help her improve her practice and children's outcomes.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

What the setting needs to do to improve further

To meet the requirements of the early years foundation stage and the Childcare Register the provider must:

	Due Date
■ maintain a current paediatric first-aid certificate, relevant for workers caring for young children and where relevant, babies.	24/07/2016

Inspection activities

- The inspector held discussions with the childminder about children's care and development.
- The inspector checked safety of the premises.
- The inspector viewed required documentation, including training and insurance certificates.
- The inspector discussed policies and procedures with the childminder, which include the arrangements to safeguard and promote children's welfare.

The childminder registered in 1998 and lives in Wadebridge, Cornwall. Care is available to children Monday to Saturday from 8am until 6pm, all year round. At the time of inspection there were no children on roll in the early years age group.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
