

Childminder Report

Inspection date	13 June 2016
Previous inspection date	1 May 2014

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Requires Improvement	3

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands her responsibility to safeguard children and promote their well-being. She knows the process to follow if she has concerns about a child. She is aware of how to assess her environment for potential hazards so that children can play safely.
- The childminder recognises the benefits of evaluating her practice. She explains how she includes the views of parents to help identify areas for improvement. She understands the importance of continuing to develop new skills and knowledge. She seeks training opportunities and keeps up to date with changes in legislation.
- The childminder understands the importance of working in partnership with parents and sharing information with them to promote continuity in children's learning.
- The childminder understands how to implement the early years foundation stage requirements. She knows how to plan activities to meet children's needs and interests.
- The childminder understands the importance of regularly monitoring children's progress. She explains how she would use this information to support children's continuing development.
- The childminder understands how to help children lead healthy lifestyles, develop their social skills and emotional well-being. She explains the importance of teaching children about having a healthy diet, doing physical exercise and showing respect to others.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector toured the areas available for childminding.
- The inspector sampled a range of documents that the childminder intends to use when caring for early years children.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder to assess her knowledge of the early years foundation stage requirements.
