

Childminder Report

Inspection date	24 June 2016
Previous inspection date	1 October 2014

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Requires Improvement	3

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has appropriately addressed actions raised at the time of the last inspection. These link to planning for children's future learning. The childminder provides documentation that shows changes were made to her practice following the inspection.
- The childminder demonstrates through discussion and documentation that she is aware of the learning and development requirements.
- The childminder identifies guidance documents that she plans to consult to aid her in ensuring that children are challenged successfully so that they make progress.
- In discussion, the childminder demonstrates a sound knowledge of what would cause her concern and her responsibilities to protect children from abuse and neglect.
- The childminder identifies and successfully minimises potential risks in her home and garden.
- The childminder provides appropriate toys and activities that meet the needs of children at different stages of development.
- The childminder recognises the value of working in partnership with parents. Documentation initially completed by parents, includes good detail on their child's care needs.
- In discussion, the childminder explains how she ensures that children are made aware of expectations for behaviour. She says that children learn to share and take turns.
- Detail on the service provided for parents and children is identified in a range of policies and procedures.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to support children's play and learning.
- The inspector looked at evidence of the childminder's training and checked evidence of the suitability of all adults in the household.
- The inspector checked all areas that will be used by children. She spoke with the childminder throughout the inspection.
- The inspector looked at policies and procedures and a range of other documentation.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
