Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to observe and assess children's progress. She knows how to support children's interests and how to engage them in their learning.
- The childminder knows the importance of sharing information with parents and other providers to identify children's needs and help them to make good progress.
- The childminder knows how to promote children's good behaviour. She understands how to teach children to respect and value other people's opinions.
- The childminder understands how to promote children's good health. She knows how to provide children with healthy meals and how to promote their physical development through a wide range of activities.
- The childminder has met the action and recommendation from the last inspection. She understands the importance of evaluating the provision. She seeks the views of parents and children to identify areas for improvement.
- The childminder knows what action to take if she has concerns about a child. She shows a clear understanding of how to identify and minimise risks to children in the home and on outings.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
