Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder knows how to observe and assess children in order to plan learning experiences that help them make progress and prepare them for school.
- The childminder is aware of the correct procedures to follow if she has a child protection concern.
- The childminder understands the importance of working closely with parents to meet children's individual needs and provide consistent care.
- The childminder is aware of the importance of teaching children to value and respect others.
- The childminder knows how to help children develop healthy lifestyles. For example, she is aware of the need to teach children about the importance of exercise and healthy eating.
- The childminder understands the need to evaluate and improve her practice so that children can benefit from changes she makes.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed childcare practice with the childminder.
- The inspector sampled relevant documentation that the childminder uses when childminding.
- The inspector looked around areas of the home used for childminding.
- The inspector checked the childminder's understanding of safeguarding procedures.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she would deliver the learning and development requirements.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
