

Childminder Report

Inspection date	22 September 2016
Previous inspection date	7 March 2013

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Not met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision does not meet requirements

- The childminder has not kept up to date with her first-aid training. She does not have a current paediatric first-aid certificate, as required. This breach also relates to the associated requirements of the Childcare Register.
- The childminder understands the safeguarding procedures to follow in the event of a concern about a child in her care
- The childminder understands how to use effective strategies for managing children's behaviour and to teach them to respect others.
- The childminder understands the importance of working closely with parents to help support a consistent approach to children's learning.
- The childminder understands how to use effective processes to monitor children's progress. She understands how to provide developmentally appropriate activities to cover all areas of learning to ensure children make progress.
- The childminder knows how to evaluate her practice. She understands how to identify areas for development to improve experiences for children.
- The childminder understands how to promote healthy lifestyles and how to provide opportunities for children to be physically active.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

What the setting needs to do to improve further

To meet the requirements of the early years foundation stage and the Childcare Register the provider must:

	Due Date
■ undertake relevant training to obtain a valid paediatric first-aid certificate.	10/10/2016
