

Childminder Report

Inspection date	28 October 2016
Previous inspection date	28 March 2013

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder knows how to recognise and report any signs and symptoms which could indicate a concern regarding a child's welfare.
- The childminder has knowledge of how to support children's good behaviour effectively. She understands the importance of teaching children to value and respect each other's differences.
- The childminder understands the benefits of sharing information with parents and other professionals to help meet children's needs.
- The childminder knows how to support children's learning in all areas. She understands how to use regular assessments to inform planning, to help children make progress.
- The childminder knows how to evaluate her practice. She understands how to identify areas for improvement to build on the quality of her practice and provision.
- The childminder knows how to support children's understanding of healthy lifestyles. She understands the value of providing children with healthy meals and snacks, and physical exercise.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed the premises with the childminder.
- The inspector sampled some documentation, including evidence of suitability checks.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she would plan for and assess children's progress.
- The inspector spoke with the childminder to assess her understanding of her responsibilities to meet requirements.
