Previous inspection date	18 December 2013

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands her responsibilities in supporting children's learning and development. She knows how to assess and monitor their progress, and plan challenging activities that build on what they know and can do.
- The childminder provides welcoming and attractive play areas. She recognises the importance of encouraging children to make choices in their own learning and play.
- The childminder identifies how to manage children's behaviour to help them learn to share, take turns and get along with each other.
- The childminder knows how to engage parents and other settings that children attend, to provide continuity in their care and learning.
- The childminder understands safeguarding matters. She recognises appropriate procedures to deal with any concerns about a child's welfare.
- The childminder completes additional training regularly to keep her knowledge up to date. She is aware of the importance of continuously reflecting on her practice to help identify her strengths and areas for development.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed the available play areas and resources.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder, including about planning and assessment, and how to keep children safe.
