

Childminder Report

Inspection date	6 March 2017
Previous inspection date	2 January 2014

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder knows how to observe, assess and monitor children's achievements to help them make progress in their learning and development.
- The childminder understands how to safeguard children. She keeps up-to-date with current legislation and knows the procedures to follow to report any concerns.
- The childminder knows how to help children learn to manage their behaviour, develop their independence, take turns and respect others.
- The childminder understands the importance of forming relationships with the local schools to help prepare children for their next stage in learning.
- The childminder knows how to use self-evaluation to reflect on her practice and help her identify areas to improve.
- The childminder is aware of how to encourage children to learn about leading healthy lifestyles, such as by providing healthy snacks and regular opportunities for exercise.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she would meet the care, learning and development needs of children.
- The inspector looked at the childminder's policies and other relevant documents, including suitability checks.
- The inspector looked at the parts of the childminder's home intended for use when minding children.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder her knowledge and understanding of the safeguarding and welfare requirements.
- The inspector looked at the outside area and equipment.
