

Childminder Report

Inspection date	27 March 2017
Previous inspection date	15 January 2015

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a sound understanding of her responsibility to keep children safe. She has kept up to-date with current changes to legislation and knows what to do to report any concerns about children's welfare.
- The childminder knows how to use the information from detailed observations and assessments to monitor children's development and to plan next steps, so children make the best possible progress in their learning, in preparation for school.
- The childminder has systems in place to recognise potential hazards and take action to minimise risks.
- The childminder knows how to encourage children to make healthy choices and be active, to support their healthy lifestyles and physical well-being.
- The childminder understands how to be a positive role model, and teach children about how to respect one another, have good manners and to value differences.
- The childminder understands the value of evaluating her practice and addressing any gaps in her knowledge, to make improvements to the quality of her setting.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she promotes children's learning and development in partnership with other settings.
- The inspector looked at the documents the childminder uses and discussed her policies.
- The inspector looked at the space available for childminding and the resources the childminder uses.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder to assess her knowledge of the early years foundation stage requirements.
