Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder knows the procedures to follow should she have any safeguarding concerns about the welfare of children in her care. She understands the importance of carrying out safety checks to help reduce or remove hazards to children.
- The childminder understands how to record accidents and incidents and inform parents promptly. She is fully aware of how to maintain all records to help support children's welfare.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working with parents and other professionals to help provide continuity for children. She knows how to observe, assess and plan next steps in children's learning, to help support their progress.
- The childminder knows how to support children's health, physical and emotional well-being. She understands how to manage children's behaviour and the importance of teaching children to take turns, share and respect others.
- The childminder knows the importance of evaluating her practice, to help identify her strengths and areas for development.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed a sample of documentation, including the childminder's paediatric first-aid certificate and public liability insurance.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder about her knowledge and understanding of the safeguarding, welfare, and learning and development requirements.
- The inspector viewed the premises to be used when childminding.
- The inspector checked the suitability and training of the childminder and the suitability of adults living on the premises.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
