Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to plan, observe and assess children's learning experiences to help children progress and develop further.
- The childminder has recently updated her safeguarding knowledge and understands her responsibility in protecting children to help keep them safe.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working in partnerships with parents, other professionals and settings that children attend, to provide continuity for children.
- The childminder understands how to promote children's well-being. She provides children with a choice of healthy snacks and daily fresh air and exercise.
- The childminder knows how to help children to manage and learn about their own feelings and behaviour. She understands how to explain boundaries and expectations.
- The childminder has an extensive range of toys and equipment that covers all areas of learning. The resources are readily available for children to select independently.
- The childminder works closely with the local authority to reflect on her provision. This helps her to ensure her skills, knowledge and procedures are up to date.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector talked to the childminder about how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children and undertake observation, assessment and planning.
- The inspector checked a range of documents the childminder intends to use for childminding and the self-evaluation evidence.
- The inspector checked evidence of the suitability and qualifications of the childminder.
- The inspector observed areas to be used for the care of children along with equipment and toys that are to be used for childminding.

The childminder registered in 1999 and lives in Slough, Berkshire. She provides care from Monday to Friday, throughout most of the year.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
