Summary of key findings for parents

The provision does not meet requirements

- The childminder has a poor understanding of some aspects of child protection and local reporting procedures. For example, she does not know about the 'Prevent' duty guidance and how to identify and respond to wider safeguarding issues.
- The childminder understands how to support children's learning. She knows how to assess and track their development and plan for their next steps in learning.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working with parents and other professionals to promote continuity of care and learning for children.
- The childminder understands the importance of children being emotionally and educationally ready for their move on to school. She demonstrates how she would help children to be independent, confident and develop positive relationships with others.
- The childminder knows how to promote children's health and describes appropriate ways to promote positive behaviour.
- The childminder has considered how she will gather the views of children and parents who use her service and how she will develop action plans to drive improvement.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

What the setting needs to do to improve further
