The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The manager has a good understanding of signs and symptoms that would cause concern about a child's welfare. She also understands the procedures to follow to report any concerns and prevent children from harm.
- Leaders are dedicated to developing staff's knowledge of child development and keeping children safe. For example, they attend food hygiene and first-aid training.
- The manager understands the importance of parental partnership and has methods in place to involve them in their child's learning. For example, she invites parents to celebrations and meets with them to discuss children's progress.
- Leaders can confidently identify suitable and interesting activities for children to support them in their learning and development in readiness for their next stages in learning.
- Leaders are fully aware of the importance of tracking children's progress and have methods in place to monitor this and help identify any gaps in children's learning.
- The manager encourages children to develop their independence and self-confidence and become happy, motivated learners who form positive relationships with others.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
