

Childminder Report

Inspection date	18 October 2017
Previous inspection date	Not applicable

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Not applicable

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder keeps her safeguarding knowledge up to date and has researched other safeguarding issues. She has completed mandatory training to keep her knowledge current.
- The childminder knows how to plan and provide activities to interest children. She understands the importance of a good relationship with parents, to share information to help her monitor and track children's progress.
- The childminder intends to visit parks, local places of interest and woods to help develop children's knowledge of the local community. She knows how to promote children's understanding of cultural diversity. She is aware of how to teach them to behave well, respect one another and be tolerant of others' beliefs.
- The childminder recognises the importance of evaluating her practice to plan for improvements and intends to seek the views of parents and children to ensure this.
- The childminder is aware of the skills children need to help them be more independent and prepare them for school.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed the premises used for childminding.
- The inspector and childminder discussed her knowledge of safeguarding, risk assessment, child development and self-evaluation.
- The inspector reviewed the resources and talked to the childminder about how she would plan activities to support children's learning.
- The inspector sampled documentation, including planning, policies and procedures.

The childminder registered in 2015. She lives in Westcott, near Dorking, Surrey. The childminder operates Tuesday to Friday from 7am to 6pm, for most of the year.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
