- Managers and staff have a clear understanding of child protection. They complete safeguarding training and know to share their concerns with the relevant authorities.
- Managers know the importance of supporting staff, such as through regular individual meetings to develop their knowledge and skills further.
- Staff understand the importance of providing children with opportunities to make healthy food choices and to be physically active to help lead a healthy lifestyle.
- Managers and staff know how to help children show respect to others, behave well and celebrate similarities and differences to support their awareness of diversity.
- Managers understand the importance of evaluating practice and of including the views of children and parents, to help develop their setting further.
- Staff are aware of the importance of having good partnerships with parents and other settings that children attend.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
