Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder maintains her knowledge through regular professional development opportunities. She understands about the work of the Local Safeguarding Children Board and updates her policies and procedures to reflect any new legislation.
- The childminder uses risk assessments to help her to review the home and garden. She provides a safe environment for children to play.
- The childminder understands about how to support children's confidence and self-esteem. The childminder plans activities, such as putting on a pantomime performance with children to show their parents.
- The childminder provides nutritious, well-balanced meals. She plans dinner time as a sociable occasion so all children get together and chat about their day at school.
- The childminder intends to help children to learn about the differences and similarities between themselves and others
- The childminder explains how she intends to encourage children to explore the outdoors and experience risk and challenge in their play.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector looked at policies and documents the provider plans to use when caring for children.
- The inspector discussed self-evaluation with the provider and any plans for improvement.
- The inspector confirmed there was evidence that suitability checks were in place for the childminder and household members.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
