- The childminder has met previous actions to develop her knowledge and understanding of the statutory requirements to support children's learning, development and welfare.
- The childminder has a secure understanding of safeguarding. She discusses how she will protect children from extreme ideas and views. She is up to date on the latest safeguarding issues.
- The childminder has a good understanding of how she will complete the required progress check for children at two years old. She can identify and support children's needs in partnership with parents and professionals.
- The childminder explains how she will provide children with positive play experiences based on a good understanding of child development and the assessment process.
- The childminder demonstrates she has a good awareness of how to evaluate her practice and identify areas for development.
- The childminder discusses her good understanding of how she will cater for children's different dietary requirements and cultural observations.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
