The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to support children with their learning and development. She is aware of how to observe, assess and monitor children's progress, to help them to develop in their learning.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working in partnership with children's parents and other professionals involved in their care. She understands how to keep them well informed and involved in children's learning.
- The childminder knows how to recognise the signs and symptoms that may indicate a child being at risk of harm. She is aware of child protection issues and the local procedures that she should follow to report any concerns that she has about children's welfare.
- The childminder recognises the importance of keeping her skills and knowledge up to date and relevant, such as through attending courses and taking part in training.
- The childminder understands the important health benefits of providing children with daily fresh air and exercise.
- The childminder has a wide range of resources for children to choose from independently.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
