The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Met

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder explains that she will seek the views of parents and children to help her monitor and improve her provision. She has attended a range of training, such as in safeguarding, to help develop her skills and knowledge.
- The childminder has explored systems for observing and assessing children's learning and development. She understands how she can support children of different age groups and help them to make progress. The childminder explains that she will plan activities to narrow any gaps in their learning.
- The childminder has a clear awareness of how she can support children in their personal development, for example, by encouraging them to be active and keep themselves healthy. She knows how to encourage good behaviour.
- The childminder's home is safe and secure. She carries out appropriate risk assessments and has a wide range of resources for children of all age groups.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed relevant documents and records, including certificates in paediatric first aid and relevant Disclosure and Barring Service checks.
- The inspector spoke to the childminder about her previous experience of minding and how she plans to support and assess children's learning.
- The inspector viewed the areas of the childminder's home available for childminding.
- The inspector considered the childminder's understanding of the relevant requirements, including those relating to safeguarding.
