Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder knows how to identify the possible signs and symptoms of abuse. The childminder knows the procedures that she must implement should she feel a child is at risk of harm.
- The childminder has all required documentation in place. She holds a current paediatric first-aid certificate and maintains her public liability insurance.
- The childminder understands how to support children's learning, including how to monitor their development, and plan interesting activities to help them prepare for school.
- The childminder knows the importance of evaluating the quality of care and education she offers, as well as seeking the views of parents and children.
- The childminder knows how to help children develop independence, health awareness, confidence and good social skills. She has clear strategies to follow to positively manage their behaviour.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children and undertake observation, assessment and planning.
- The inspector had a tour of the premises and discussed the equipment and toys available.
- The inspector discussed the policies and procedures with the childminder and viewed documentation that she will use when caring for children.
- The inspector discussed the safeguarding requirements and the precautions the childminder will take to keep children safe.
- The inspector checked documentation the childminder is required to maintain, including suitability checks.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
