Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder is confident with the signs that indicate abuse or neglect. She knows how to report any concerns to the relevant agencies to protect children's welfare.
- The childminder understands how children learn. She observes, assesses and monitors children's development to plan activities that help build on their progress over time.
- The childminder reflects on her practice. For example, she make changes to her policies in response to information she receives from the local authority, to bring them in line with changing legislation. The childminder meets with other childminders and they share good practice.
- The childminder understands the importance of working closely with parents to share what children know and can do, for a consistent approach to their learning.
- The childminder knows how to support children to build a positive self-esteem and develop confidence. She understands how to help children manage their behaviour, to respect their friends and get along with each other.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder her understanding of how children learn and develop.
- The inspector looked at a sample of documents, including the suitability of the childminder and other adults living in the household.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder her understanding of how to keep children safe from harm.
- The inspector took a tour of the premises.

The childminder registered in 2009. She lives in Southall, in the London Borough of Hounslow. She operates five days a week from 8am to 6pm, throughout most of the year.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
