

Childminder Report

Inspection date	12 June 2018
Previous inspection date	14 July 2015

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder knows how to provide an exciting range of activities to engage children's interest and promote development. She knows how to assess children's learning.
- The childminder knows how to support children's physical well-being, such as through healthy diets and daily exercise. She knows how to promote children's positive attitude to healthy eating by encouraging their involvement in mealtime activities.
- The childminder is aware of the process to follow if she has a concern over a child's welfare. She understands how to keep the premises free from hazards.
- The childminder understands the importance of sharing regular information with parents and other professionals who work with children, to help provide consistency for children's learning and care.
- The childminder understands the importance of self-evaluation. She knows how to seek the views of others to help her reflect on her service. She understands the importance of developing her skills and knowledge to continually improve outcomes for children.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to meet the safeguarding and welfare requirements when minding children.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children.
- The inspector discussed record keeping, policies and procedures with the childminder.
- The inspector undertook a tour of the areas of the premises available for childminding.
- The inspector viewed, and took into account, written feedback from parents.
