- The childminder is aware of how to manage children's behaviour and is confident in procedures for maintaining children's health.
- The childminder understands her roles and responsibilities to safeguard children. She is confident in the procedures to follow should she have any concerns about a child's welfare.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working in partnership with parents and other professionals involved in children's care and learning to maintain continuity of care.
- The childminder acknowledges the importance of keeping her training up to date and reflecting on her practice to drive improvements.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children.
