Inspection date	20 December 2018
Previous inspection date	1 August 2014

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Met

Summary of key findings for parents

This provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to safeguard children's welfare, including wider safeguarding issues. She knows how to keep children safe and the procedures to follow to report any concerns.
- The childminder knows how to work in partnership with parents to build up a picture of what children already know and can do when they first start. She describes how she intends to plan activities based on children's interests, next steps and stage of development.
- The childminder understands the importance of supporting children to develop healthy lifestyles. She understands her role in helping children to build strong relationships. She knows to teach them to share, take turns and to respect each other.
- The childminder is committed to continuing her professional development and knows how to use training to improve her personal effectiveness.
- The childminder recognises the need to evaluate her service.
- The childminder knows how to promote children's good health and care needs.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed the safeguarding and welfare requirements with the childminder and took into consideration the suitability checks for members of the household.
- The inspector viewed the areas of the premises used by children and discussed the equipment and toys available.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder about her knowledge and understanding of the learning and development requirements.
- The inspector sampled a range of documents, including policies and procedures.
