The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Requires improvement	3

Summary of key findings for parents

This provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands her role in protecting children from harm. She knows how to report any concerns for children's welfare, and how to keep them safe.
- The childminder describes how she will support children to become independent and to manage their personal care. She has organised her environment so that children can freely access toys and resources to support their learning.
- The childminder explains how she will monitor children's development. She will assess children's starting points and record their ongoing development. She will encourage parents to make observations of their children and plan together for children's next steps in development.
- The childminder describes how she will support children to respect adults and their peers. She will talk to them about values and teach them to be kind and polite.
- The childminder keeps herself up to date and informed about changing practices and any training required. For example, she attends conferences and safeguarding and first-aid training.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder her knowledge and understanding of the learning and development requirements of early years.
